

Director of Volunteer Missions

Seeking a dynamic leader to coordinate, plan, and implement transformative mission experiences for persons of all ages. Hinton Center has a long-standing reputation for providing a strong Christian mission experience including site coordinators, tools, meals, lodging, and positive community atmosphere for groups seeking an opportunity to put faith into action providing home repair in the Appalachian region. Although Hinton is a mission agency of the United Methodist Church, groups of various denominations and non-religious organizations choose Hinton year after year for their mission destination.

In order to maintain this high quality experience, the Director of Volunteer Missions must have experience in construction, management and supervision, leadership, and event planning. This individual must be able to work well with members of the community, volunteers, and staff. This individual will oversee the performance of up to 10 college-age summer staff members and must be a role model empowering these staff members to be hardworking, enthusiastic, organized, and dedicated to a top quality experience for the homeowners and the volunteers.

This full-time seasonal position begins March 1, 2012 and is scheduled to end August 30, 2012 with the potential of becoming a year-round position. The work is physically demanding, and the schedule requires work on weekdays, weekends, and some evenings with longer hours during the 11 week summer sessions. Compensation will include food and lodging during the summer mission weeks and salary based on experience.
